POLITICAL AIR IS CLEARING SLIGHTLY

Activity of American Party Lends Interest and Satisfaction to Situation.

REPUBLICANS THINK W. J. LYNCH WILL RUN

Friends of Police Chief Say Their Man Will Be Given Nomination.

Following the announcement from the American party city committee, and the call issued by the chairman, the local political situation has assumed more definite shape. A large number of prominent business men of the city have been waiting for the American party to express itself and there was noticeable on Wednesday a general underlying sentiment of gratification at the development. Many of these business men were seen by The Tribune, and while none were willing to talk for publication before the political atmosphere had cleared up a little more, few were found who did not express the belief that the American party has before it an opportunity that can hardly be appreciated, and that the party will win all along the line.

Lynch the Republican Choice.

Lynch the Republican Choice.

The Republicans apparently at last have fixed their gaze on a candidate for Mayor. After being on the still hunt for over two weeks for a victim, and after having been repeatedly turned down by gentlemen whom they had beraided as probable candidates, they believe that they have found one man who will not back away from their approaches so monotonously and firmly. Apparently the name of William J. Lynch, the Chief of Police, has changed from a rumor to a settled fact, and the friends of the Chief are confident that his name will lead the Smootite ticket.

No One Else Wants It.

No One Else Wants It.

Many Republicans in the city and county building are for Lynch, among whom is Sheriff Emery. The Sheriff said yesterday:

"You can rest assured that Lynch will be the Republican nominee for Mayor. I will bet you or any one clae a $40 suit of clothes to this effect."

The Chief's admirers have the satisfaction of knowing that no one clae has been sufficiently interested in the nomination to give him a fight to secure it.

Chief Closed Saloons.

The Chief was seen yesterday in regard to the salbon-closing order of last Sunday. When asked from whom the order was issued, he answered bluntly. "The order came from me personally, and I am willing to accept the responsibility for it. The reason I took this action is that there is an ordinance prohibiting the selling of liquor on Sunday."

Further than that the Chief would have nothing to say.

Friends Explain Attitude.

It is claimed by those who would see the Chief in the Mayor's office that last Sunday is not the first time he has had the saloons closed on Sunday. They maintain that several months ago he had the town tight as a drum, but many of the saloon men then arrested were dismissed without trial. Since this time they say that all the police department could do was to keep the saloons within bounds.

Worry for Politicians.

There is a newly arising phase of the local political situation which is causing great commotion among the Democrats and Republicans. County Attorney Parley P. Christensen has issued an edict against the scheduled fight between Ruhlin and Wille.

Mr. Christensen has stated most posiagainst the scheduled light between Rullia and Wille.

Mr. Christensen has stated most positively that this fight will not be brought off within his jurisdiction, and that he will prevent it should it become necessary to use the entire Sheriff's force.

Mayor Morris has followed the policy of sanctioning these fights, and his consent had to be secured before the anticipated mill became a possibility. It is therefore a matter of conjecture as to what will take place between the Sheriff's force and the local police department in case the County Attorney's attitude is not altered prior to the light.

Why This Moral Wave?

Why This Moral Wave?

"I would like to know," asked a prominent American party man Tuesday, "why there is such a moral reformation at a time so near the election. We find a city administration, soon to make its appeal to the people for their support, which has been blind to violations of the law for over a year, suddenly sail out under full canvas and demolish the saloon man's calculations as spectacularly as a Carrie Nation.

"And now one of the county officials

"And now one of the county officials bobs up at this absorbing period, assumes a virtuous demeanor in spite of the fact that Promoter Bean has always given this official's office three tickets to former prize fights, and expects the suffering public to fall in with the long-delayed

Theater Fights Not Bothered.

"I would like to know where Parley Christensen was when those fights were pulled off in the theater owned by Joseph F. Smith Why did he not assert his resty authority then? Has Joseph F. Smith put the ban on fights simply because they are not booked for his play-house, where he can get a rake-off for the Lord's sake?

house, where he can get a last Lord's sake?

"Whether it is right or wrong to have these fights is not occupying the minds of the people as much as these recent pre-election antics of the Democratic and Re-publican fishers for votes."

Vindictive Politics.

"I wonder," asked another, "If these conscience-stricken, vote-seeking Morrisites and Smootlies, who apparently are trying to cut one another's political throats, really believe that the voting public has such a short memory as to applaud their palpable performances next November? In my opinion you are going to see the merriest kind of an exhibition of vicinity of the second se ber? In my opinion you are going to see the merriest kind of an exhibition of vin-dictive politics ever witnessed between these two factions of the big church."

Clerks Must Contribute. The Democrats deem themselves very fortunate these strenuous financial times in having most all the city officials to draw upon for funds. Nearly all these officials have clerks, both young men and women, who will be asked to contribute 10 per cent of their salary for the common cause.

will be asked to contribute 10 per cent of their salary for the common cause. Secretary Luce of the Democratic com-mittee stated yesterday that the Demo-crats of the Nineteenth district will meet at 550 South Main street tonight for the purpose of selecting delegates. It was also learned that the Democrats of the Fiftieth district will meet for the same purpose at the home of Mayor Morris, 242 East South Temple. These districts were omitted in the list published yesterday.

BLUES MEET BROWNS IN A SHAM BATTLE

In Monthly Maneuvers at Post, the Blues Are the Victors.

A number of interested spectators witnessed the sham battle at Fort Douglas vesterday, the contending forces being the blues, under the command of Lieut.
Louis T. Boiseau of the artillery corps, while the browns were led by Capt. John N. Strant of the Twenty-ninth Infantry. Lined up on the side of the blues were companies E and F. Twenty-ninth infantry, the Twenty-second battery of field artillery, one non-commissioned officer, two men and one ambulance from the hespital corps.

Companies G. H and L from the Twenty-ninth infantry, the Tweitth battery of field artillery, one officer, two enlisted men and one ambulance from the hospital corps made up the forces on the brown side. he blues, under the command of Lieut.

Problem Worked Out

Problem Worked Out.

The general situation preceding the sham hattle was this: The blues were retiring through friendly territory and was pressed by the brown forces of infantry and artillery. The blue force had left Bountful and was marching by way of Emigration canyon to Coalville, garrisoned by the blues. When near the University of Utah, the commander received an order from the commandant at Coalville directing resistance to the pursuing brown force, but this delaying action must not prevent junction at Coalville.

Won by the Blues. Won by the Blues.

Won by the Blues.

The browns were reported to be superior to the blues. Their commander, having learned that the blues at Bountiful work withdrawing for the purpose of joining the garrison at Coalville, decided to pursue and attack them.

In the maneuverings and battle between the opposing forces, the report that the browns were superior proved to be unfounded, for the blues were the victors and carried off the honors of the day.

HUNTERS AFTER DUCKS

Several Have Been Arrested and Fined for Killing the Birds.

Deputy Game Warden Bingley is kept busy Just now protecting the ducks from over-zealous hunters. Two Greeks were caught in the act of shooting at a flock of the birds yesterday near Murray. The men did not succeed in bagging any of the birds, but the attempt was considered a sufficient offense by the game warden, who took them before Justice Holm. The men were obliged to pay $10 each and promise to refrain from further infringing upon the law in order to gain their freedom. The season for duck shooting opens on October 1. The sloughs and swamps of the State are said to be fairly teeming with the birds. Every effort will be made, however, to prevent the unnecessary slaughter of the ducks, and those killing more than twellty-five a day will be ar rested and fined, as provided by law. The quall law will also be strictly enforced.

PLENTY OF WATER WHEN RAIN COMES

Morris Administration Still Dallies With the Water Question.

TO NAME COMMITTEE OF FIVE CITIZENS

General Discussion Results in Little Progress Toward Solution.

They talked water, pipes, canals, somnore water, pumping plants, additional water, tunnels, shafte, sumps, water again, water pure, impure, containing germs and free from germs; discussed the Liberty park wells, the Emigration canyon plans, the Cottonwood enterprise etc., etc., for nearly three hours, but when adjournment was finally had, there were no visible signs that the special water committee of the City Council was any nearer ready to take measures to relieve the existing shortage than it was before the session.

A representative body of citizens, signers of the call for the citizens' mass meeting, responded to the invitation extended to meet with the special water committee of the Council and discuss the feasibility of emergency plans for relieving the present water famine

Leading Citizens Present.

Among those in attendance were John Dern. Col. Milner, Samuel Ewing, Col. E. A. Wall, J. D. Wood, George W. Moyer, City Physician Wilcox, former State Engineer Doremus, City Engineer Riter, Assistant City Engineer Bacon, George N. Nichols, Superintendent of Waterworks Hines, Councilmen Barnes, Black, A. J. Davis, E. H. Davis, Fernstrom, Hewlett, Wells, Dean, Wood, Hobday and Tuddenham.

Co-Operating Committee.

President Hewlett of the Council presided and a general discussion was had, in which nearly all of those present expressed their views. The session lasted from 8 o clock until nearly 11, and just before adjournment was taken a motion by Councilman Wells that the Mayor be requested to appoint a committee of five citizens to co-operate with the special water committee of the Council in an effort to solve the water problem was unantmously carried.

Fernstrom's Bluff Called.

Fernstrom's Bluff Called.

Fernstrom started the ball rolling by "rising to explain" that even if the plan to utilize the water from the Liberty park artesian wells should prove in other respects feasible, the city had no large pipe on hand and none could be secured within thirty days. Neuhausen called him with the statement. "I'll get it in less time than that."

Wells questioned the advisability of using the artesian water because he feared it was not pure, and Dr. Wilcox said that it contained more typhoid germs than the water now in the city mains. Mr. Ewing said that the claim of impurity was preposterous in the face of the analyses already made by eminent authority, and insisted that something must be done to relieve the shortage.

Wait Until It Rains.

Wait Until It Rains.

Wait Until It Rains.

Advocates of the Cottonwood supply then got into the game and urged that by the time something could be done the weather would be cool and the city would not need so much water, and that next year when the Cottonwood waters had been secured there would be an abundance. Assistant City Engineer Bacon expressed the opinion that the building of the proposed cut-off dam to catch the underground flow in Emigration canyon would probably reduce the flow of the Liberty park wells

Hot Shot From Mover.

Hot Shot From Moyer.

Hot Shot From Moyer.

After a long and desultory discussion Mr. Moyer handed a few hot shots to the acministration. He declared that the plans of the special water committee of the Council and the administration generally were based upon fine spun theories, that the citizens who were suffering from a shortage of water were proceeding along the line of known facts, and that every move made by the citizens had been combatted by the administration.

This statement was resented by Councilmen Wolls, Hewlett and Tuddenham, who insisted that they stood ready to do anything in reason which would relieve existing conditions.

John Dern said that no adequate pumping plant could be established at Liberty park within thirty days, and was opposed to any 'make shift proposition.' His views were concurred in by J. D. Wood.

Favors Emigration Plan.

Favors Emigration Plan. Favors Emigration Plan.

Col. Wall discussed the Emigration canyon question at length, explaining the existence of the heavy underground flow, and advocating the sinking of a shaft about 100 feet deep, with a cross-cut from side to side of the canyon walls at the bottom. This, he said, would, with the installation of a pump, at a comparatively small expense, furnish plenty of assuredly pure water.

The motion for the appointment of a citizens committee terminated the discussion, and Chairman Hewlett announced that the Mayor would be at once potified to this effect.

"THERE'S A REASON." That's All Right, But What Is It?

A lady teacher in South Dakota says: "I was compelled to give up teaching for nearly 4 years because of what the physicians called "nervous dyspepsia." Nor was I of any use in the household economy. I was in many respects a I had numerous physicians, one after another, and took many different kinds another, and took many different kinds of medicine, but they did me no good. "Finally, 5 years ago, I began to use Grape-Nuts food. I grew stronger in a very short time on the new diet, and was soon able to resume and am still teaching. I no longer use drugs of any kind, my dyspepsia has disappeared and am a hearty woman-thanks Grape-Nuts." Name given by Postum Co. Battle Creek. Mich. There's a reason. Brain work and worry take strength from the stomach and bowels. They become too weak to handle the fried meat, eggs, bacon, coffee and white bread, so, partly digested they decay and cause all sorts of trouble which will become chronic if continued. Then the nerves and brain grow weary for they are deprived of the rebuilding ele ments the food must furnish to replace the soft gray filling of nerve centers and brain which is partly used up each

Now comes the mission of Grape-Nuts to supply the "Reason." Made in a peculiar and scientific way of the se-lected parts of Wheat and Barley this famous food contains natural phose of potash with albumen which combines with water in the body and makes that gray matter quickly and surely when nerves and brain feel the power of new made and properly made cells, the strength returns to stomach as well as other parts. "There's a reason."
Anyone can prove it.

DIRECTOR WALCOTT TALKS OF IRRIGATION

Noted Geologist Tells of Problems That Confront Reclamation Service.

After a two weeks' visit in the southcentral section of Utah, Prof. Charles D. Walcott, director-general of the United States geological survey, returned to Salt Lake yesterday mouning. In company with Prof. George L. Swendsen, head o the reclamation service in Utah, Prof. Walcott leaves this morning for the Strawberry valley. The two men will spend a week going over that big project after which Director Walcott goes t Montrose, Colo, and later to Washington where he will talk over the Strawberry valley with the Secretary of the Interior Seated in the Kenyon pariors last evening. Prof. Walcott taiked entertainingly ing. Prof. Walcox, which confront of the problems which confront openingst and the irrigation expert in this

"This is the geologist's paradise," he said "and has been ever since King surveyed the Union Pacific line through Wyoming. The formation of these mountains and valleys make a most interesting study and present problems enough to keep geologists busy for a generation at least.

at least.

"The reclamation service is only a branch of the geological survey, but it is a very important one. Its special value in my estimation, is because of the stable population that it brings to a State. If the Government makes possible the reclamation of $9,990 acres of land, or eighty acres for each of 1990 families, that means in a little while a population of 5000 people. That in turn means the bailding up of a town, the establishing of stores and business houses, and the drawing of capital to that region.

Reclamation Is the Thins.

Reclamation Is the Thing.

Reclamation Is the Thing.

"Mining will, of course, continue to be the great industry of this region, but the reclamation of the desert is a question of mighty interest.

"There are so many things to be taken into consideration that it will take years to work out the desert's salvation. It is not merely a question of how much it will cost to build a reservoir and how long it will take, but the minimum amount of water for a given season must be taken into consideration. For instance, there might be a plentiful supply of water for a certain region for three years, then would come a season when there would be practically none. In the reclamation service, all these things have to be taken into consideration, and so it will take years of patient effort to perfect even a few of the great projects the Government now has under consideration.

Possibilities of Dry Farming. Possibilities of Dry Farming.

Possibilities of Dry Farming.

"I have been interested in the results of dry farming in this region; have seen some results which have quite astonished me. The great secret of this is in knowing just when to put in the seeds. If the grains have a good start and the plants are made strong by the early rains, then the hot dry summer season will not affect them. As proof of this, look at the sagebrush and the greasswood, which flourish where water seldom reaches them during the hottest weather, and become hardy plants under conditions which would seem to make it impossible."

Prof. Walcott has never visited the Strawberry valley, and was looking forward with special interest to the trip. With Prof. Swendsen, who has been thoroughly familiar with the project from its inception, he will go carefully over every foot of the system planned, so that he will be able to present the matter to the Secretary of the Interior upon his next visit to Washington.
